1. This Headquarters wishes to apologize for the delay in responding to Reference a., detailing the requirement for the services of [REDACTED] of the Air Support Branch of the Development Projects Division.

2. By way of explanation, almost since receipt of Reference a. this Headquarters has been undergoing an extensive reorganization, the exact details of which have not yet been fully made known to us. The impact of the reorganization and realignment of command functions has prevented serious consideration of your request until the present.

25X1A9a 3. Unfortunately, [REDACTED] is not available for the assignment suggested in Reference a. based upon the understanding that he would be located during the tour of his service at Eglin Air Force Base rather than at Headquarters Air Force. As you know, this Agency faces a severe shortage of well-trained civilian air operations officers with the background and qualifications possessed by [REDACTED]. We indeed regret that we are unable to respond affirmatively to the instant request and only hope that in the future we may be able to do so, since it is the general view here that this type of exchange is functionally sound and inherently beneficial to both the Air Force and the CIA.
